DANFOSS LIMITED IN THE NEWS

Release : 2017 Installer Training
Publication : HVP
Issue : April 2017

Profiting from controls

Danfoss is offering domestic heating installers the opportunity to improve their skills and profitability with professional training on Danfoss heating controls.

Held at venues across the UK, the one-day seminars cover all aspects of domestic central heating techniques, both in theory and practice. The latest programme is available on the company's website, together with an easy online booking system.

Venues for 2017 include facilities provided by Danfoss' professional training partners, local colleges, hotels and golf clubs. Seminars are conducted by an experienced instructor who will guide installers through the various heating systems and demonstrate how these can be controlled more efficiently using Danfoss products.

Each training day also includes a heating controls workshop, which gives installers the chance to gain hands-on experience of wiring and fault finding under expert instruction. Every installer who successfully completes a course will receive a certificate.

By bringing professional training to regional venues, Danfoss makes it easier for busy installers to keep up to date with the latest products and regulations.

Gareth Ash, Danfoss' marketing services manager, said: "Our courses highlight all the new heating control solutions, helping installers stay ahead of the standards and maximise new business opportunities by offering their customers control upgrades that will increase comfort and reduce heating costs. As a further incentive to sign up, members of the Danfoss Elite Installer Loyalty Programme will earn points towards a range of rewards when they attend a course."

Danfoss manufactures heating products ranging from programmers, thermostats and TRVs to balancing valves, pressure and flow controllers and heat exchangers.

www.heating.danfoss.co.uk

Danfoss offers heating controls training to installers

DANFOSS LIMITED IN THE NEWS

Release : 2017 Installer Training
Publication : www.installeronline.co.uk
Issue : March 2017

Industry News, Training

Posted by: jsharpe (http://www.installeronline.co.uk/author/jsharpe/) on February 20, 2017 in Industry News (http://www.installeronline.co.uk/category/industry-news/), Training (http://www.installeronline.co.uk/category/training/) Leave a comment (http://www.installeronline.co.uk/danfoss-offering-heating-controls-training-to-installers/#respond)

Danfoss offering heating controls training to installers

Danfoss is once again offering domestic heating installers the opportunity to improve their skills and profitability with professional training in Danfoss heating controls.

Held at venues across the UK, the one-day seminars cover all aspects of domestic central heating techniques, both theory and practice. The latest programme of events is available on the company's website at www.heating.danfoss.co.uk (http://heating.danfoss.stfi.re/home/?sf=vxvypaj), together with an easy online booking system.

The venues for 2017 include facilities provided by Danfoss' professional training partners, local colleges, hotels and golf clubs. Seminars are conducted by an experienced instructor who will guide installers through the various heating systems and demonstrate how these can be controlled more efficiently using Danfoss products, from electronic programmers and thermostats to TRVs and motorised control valves. Each training day also includes a useful heating controls workshop,

DANFOSS LIMITED IN THE NEWS

Release : 2017 Installer Training
Publication : Plumbing Heating and Air Movment News
Issue : March 2017

TRAINING Update

Improve your controls skills

Installers who want to improve their knowledge of heating controls will be interested in a new series of one-day seminars organised by Danfoss at various venues across the UK. Held at local colleges, hotels and golf clubs, the seminars are conducted by an experienced instructor who will advise installers how Danfoss products can be used to control different types of heating systems.

Each training day includes a heating controls workshop which will give attendees the chance to gain hands-on experience of wiring and fault finding. Every installer who successfully completes the course will receive a Danfoss certificate.

As a further incentive to sign up, members of the Danfoss Elite Installer Loyalty Programme will be able to earn points towards a range of rewards when they attend.

The latest programme of events is available on the company's website (www.heating.danfoss.co.uk) together with an online booking system.

PROFESSIONAL HEATING & PLUMBING INSTALLER

Professional training with Danfoss

Danfoss is once again offering domestic heating installers the opportunity to improve their skills and profitability with professional training in its heating controls.

Held at venues across the UK, the one-day seminars cover all aspects of domestic central heating techniques, both theory and practice. The latest programme of events is available on the company's website at www.heating.danfoss.co.uk (http://www.heating.danfoss.co.uk), together with an easy online booking system.

The venues for 2017 include facilities provided by Danfoss' professional training partners, local colleges, hotels and golf clubs. Seminars are conducted by an experienced instructor who will guide installers through the various heating systems and demonstrate how these can be controlled more efficiently using Danfoss products, from electronic programmers and thermostats to TRVs and motorised control valves.

Each training day also includes a useful heating controls workshop, which gives installers the chance to gain hands-on experience of wiring and fault finding under expert instruction. Every installer who successfully completes a course will receive a certificate.

By bringing professional training to regional venues, Danfoss believes it makes it easier for busy installers to keep up to date with the latest products and regulations. A spokesperson for the company commented: "Our courses highlight all the new heating control solutions, helping installers stay ahead of the standards and maximise new business opportunities by offering their customers control upgrades that will increase comfort and reduce heating costs. As a further incentive to sign up, members of the Danfoss Elite Installer Loyalty Programme will earn points towards a range of rewards when they attend a course."

For more information about Danfoss Installer Training, including seminar dates, venues and a typical agenda, visit www.heating.danfoss.co.uk (http://www.heating.danfoss.co.uk) and click on Training & E-Learning from the Home page.

Professional Heating & Plumbing Installer (http://phpionline.co.uk) © Copyright Hamerville Media Group (http://www.hamerville.co.uk).
All Rights reserved. Terms & Conditions (http://phpionline.co.uk/?p=330) | Cookies | (http://phpionline.co.uk/?