The Danfoss Advent Calendar competition is back

Danfoss is getting into the festive spirit with the launch of its ever-popular online Advent Calendar competition.

Members of the Elite benefit programme for professional heating installers can try their luck for free in daily prize draws at www.elite.danfoss.co.uk. A bumper selection of goodies is up for grabs in this year's competition which will run from 1st December right through to Christmas Eve 2017. Among the fantastic prizes on offer will be a Fitbit Activity Tracker, Amazon Echo Smart Speaker with Alexa, Xcam Quadcopter, Moët & Chandon Brut Imperial Champagne, LG Soundbar with Wireless Subwoofer, a Hugo Boss Ambassador Gents Watch, plus lots of £100 gift cards for big brand retailers and restaurants.

Getting your hands on a prize in time for Christmas couldn't be simpler. Behind each day on the competition's Advent Calendar is a multiple choice question about Danfoss's extensive range of world-class heating products, from user-friendly touch-screen room thermostats to the latest programmable Thermostatic Radiator Valves. Questions could be about a product's high-efficiency features or how much householders could save on their energy bills by installing Danfoss heating controls.
